The Benjamin Morgan was chartered by merchants in New York to load for Cape Town, Cape of Good Hope, and sailed on the 4th inst, with lumber, rosin, provisions, etc., and will thence proceed to Desolation Island and take

ROYAL FLIGHT FROM NAPLES.-News from Europe to the 28th May, per City of Washington, has reported at Paris, on the 29th, that the King of Naples had quitted the kingdom on board the frigate Stromales, and that the Piedmontese occupied the forts. This requires confirmation. Disturbances at Naples were mminent. Appeals to the people to revolt were being publicly distributed. The Neapolitan Minister of War and Gen Baschoe had left Naples for Calabria, with six battalions of reinforcements.

THE SWIFTEST YACHT IN THE WORLD .- The yacht Maria best the America before the latter went to Europe and took down the bunting from the fastest yuchts in the British fleet. Formerly the Maria was sloop-rigged, but this year, her owner, Mr. Stevens, of Hoboken, has lengthened her, by milding six feet to her stern, and altered her rig to a schooner. Her masts are not round, but flat-sided, and it is claimed that by this form the wind goes direct into the sail. Each of these masts is 24 inches in diame ter; and the sails, instead of being attached to hoops as is usual, are secured to a combination of small follers, which fit into a slot and traveller, and by this means the sails set closer to the mast. NEW LAMPS FOR BURNING WHALE OIL .- Our readers will remember that some two months since a committee, appointed by the merchants and others of New Bedford, offered rewards amounting to $4,500 for the best lamps for burning whale oil. We referrel at the time to the announcement (which is yet in our advertising columns) and expressed the belief that it would stimulate American inventors to produce the much desired result. According to the offer, all lamps should be submitted to the committee by the 30th inst. We have not definitely learned what is the pers, notices of two lamps invented by parties in that city, and which we place together as follows :-

The first is from the N. B. Mercury: more brilliant light, with less consumption of oil, than any other lamp we have yet seen. It has been found, by experiment, to burn eight hours, with a consumption of only three cents worth of whale oil, at $1 per gallon. A patent has been applied for." The second is from the Standard:

The Prince, it is said, turned pale, but the Duke of Newcostle was from and decided. pale, but the Duke of Newcastle was firm and decided, and merely told the driver to urge his horses to their utmost speed. Soon after, several Grangemen mounted the arch and supended five very obnexious banners and several partisan inscriptions upon it.

Nor was this all. A correspondent, in a letter, Just before dask this evening, the Duke of Newcastle and the flovernor-General took a walk out to see the city. They were dre sed in plain clothes, and were not recognized by the people until their return from the walk, and were again near the Government House. As soon as word passed who they were, a surreyors crowd of about a thousand persons chased them down the street, houring, yelling, and shouting all kinds of opprobrious epithets. The Duke and Governor Genreal were pushed violently against the stone gate slible posts of the Government House as they were striving to enter, and the Governor was considerably bruised about the arms and shoulders. After a parting cheer, the mob then dispersed. The city is quiet to-night, with but few reaching the same and shoulders. with but few people in the streets or churches, but extra policemen have been appointed and sentinels have been doubled at the Government House.

With the departure of the party from Toronto quiet was again restored, and their subsequent progress in the smaller towns of the province, the telea bounded one, and that the granters to him knew all about the extent of the land, and if they had not told him, (Morrison.) graph says, has been unattended with any similar Strange Story - H cks. the Pirate, Still Living-Resescitated by the Physicians.

Our readers are acquainted with the recent execution of Hicks, the pirate, at Bedloe's Island, New York. Well, there is a story in circulation to the effect that he is still living, having been resuscitated by means of the galvantic battery, after being pro-nounced dead and cut down. The New York Leader is positive of the fact, and gives the following account of the process of resuscitation: "There is now no was estensibly executed for piracy on Bedloe's Island, on the 13th of last July, is still living, through in a dangerous state, but likely to recover the full use of lyzed; but apart from these injuries he would appear to have suffered nothing, and his residence at his sister's house in Poughkeepsie has proved every way excited by the utterly fearless manner in which Hicks conducted himself previous to his execution. State, Washington, by a recent notice, states that He laughed at the idea of the gallows, and was only anxious, as he repeatedly said, to have 'things conducted according to agreement.' In this agreement it is now believed that a prominent federal officer diminution of the cost of meat to the latter. I asl, is Beef, had part; and it is on record in the daily papers, that he was present at the execution, wearing his Deputy Marshal's badge, although no longer in the Marshai's force.

" It was also remarked at the time that Hicks was only pulled up a distance of two and a half feetutterly insufficient to break his neck; and that he was only allowed to remain thirteen minutes hanging. He was then cut down and pronounced dead, after which his body was immediately handed over to the care of Doctors J. T. Bull and Henry D. O'Reilly, of Brooklyn. These gentlemen are responsible for his resurrection, and the electro-chemical bath, invented by Professor Vergnes, was the immediate instru-

"The body of the pirate was wrapped in warm blankers, and removed at once to the house of Dr. O'Reill, in Brooklyn, where Drs. O'Reilly, and Mclilery of this city, were in attendance. It was then found that his left eye-the side on which the noose had been-had lost all power of sight, and that his left arm and left leg were utterly paralyzed. In this condition he was conveyed to Poughkeepsie, where his sister, Mrs Gavan, lives, and under her roof he is now sheltered, though the triends of the family do not desire to give publicity to the fact. " Dr. Carnochan, though prevented from personal attendance by the severe indisposition which has prostrated him, took great interest in the case, and was an adviser in all its stages."

The Morrison Case Again. In your issue of Oct. 11, is a communication signed Liberty or Death," in which the subject of land boundaries in general, and the boundaries of Paauhas in particular, are bandled in quite an able manner. The writer has also shown how easy a matter it is for our highest courts to fall into error through the lack of all the testimony bearing upon a case, and that their decision, however well it may accord with the testimony produced, appears to those familiar with the matter more like judicial brutality than judicial justice-as in the case of Judge Morrison. Your correspondent has rendered good service n showing up the injustice on the part of the Government towards Morrison, and I trust they will make that gentleman all proper amends without further quibble of any sort. It is a decision universally condemned at these islands; even the party who furnished the plaintiff with funds to carry on the suit, and where the returns of it depended, in a measure, on a favorable decision to plaintiff, remarked at once opinion of the persons addressed in the matter. Where your correspondent is disinterested, he takes a very common-sense view of the matter, but where he appears to be interested, I am sorry to say his logic is as crooked as that so boldly paraded before the public by the court. He says, "does it seem possible that during the lifetime of father, mother and son, who are parties to the deed, that no circumstances should come to their knowledge that Paauhau ran half way up the mountain," &c.; and afterwards remarks, "that His Majesty, during his short visit here, feels satisfied the and now claimed is not Paauhau, but his own, from the evidence be has gone into." Were there not "father, mother and son" in mitted, but, we have seen, in the New Bedford pa- why did not he know the land belonged to him before his late visit? That is too transparent. The fact is, "Mr. T. W. Cook, of this city, has invented a two large lands, Paauhau and Kalopaa, which are new lamp for burning whale oil, which produces a well known to every person at all familiar with lands on Hawaii. But the King's is too insignificant to be noticed. (I don't know the name of it.) There is, however, an old bird eatcher's trail, starting from this land, and of the same name, and leading up on Panuhau to Maunakea and around down again to fact sufficient for a fertile genius to fabricate any land story out of, if he thought it would amuse a chief. The same story was told to Prince Lot on his Taber's residence, on Acusbnet Avenue, and gives a last visit to Hawaii, but he sent for the parties who pointed out the boundaries of Paauhau to the surveyors, and by questioning them and allowing them to question the inventors of the new story about boun-"It certainly gives a very clear and brilliant light, daries, the latter were put to shame, and acknowlequal to 13 sperm candles, at an expense of less than edged to the Prince that their story was an invention of theirs. The Prince expressed himself satisfied that all the land included in the survey belonged to and for sale low by (215-3m) CASTLE & COOKE.

Panuhau. THE PRINCE OF WALES.—The tour of the Prince | Now that the subject of boundaries is up, I am willing to still continued through Canada. In several cities, however, riots have occurred, arising from the jeal-to the owner of Walkaloa rather than have a dispute with him, only between the Orangemen (Protestants) and Ribdefined. Several thousand acr s were given up by Mr. Parker to the owner of Walkadoa rather than have a dispute with him, bonnen (Catholics.)

Onance and Ribbonnen, which so saily disturbed the peace of the Prince of Walka and suite in Kingston and other places, were reported by telegraph to have subsided entirely, but the correspondence of the New York papers tells a different story. On the arrival of the party at Foronto the excitement was revived with relicubled fury. Says a writer:

An Orange arch, with offensive inscriptions, has been erected over a street through which it was thought the Prince would pass in going to church. Instead of doing so, however, he was driven by a during the whole of the service. As the royal party of a poor government, wisely secured for it all the lands b could lay his bands on -and among others, claimed for govern-ment all mountain lands, and sought to legitimize the claim by numerous leases of lands in the mountain; hence the Parker mistakes on the part of "Liberty or Beath" and the Court in the Land Commission, they whimed and whamed things about in a said way, dending that Hakoninas were to hold according lence in the kuternu line in quite as mouraful a way. The idea of claiming the mountain lands for government scened so port and just to the monds of all that it became a fixed fact, even ong after the Land Commission had decreed otherwise-ind many of the country people believe the mountain lands belong to the government to this day. Having considerable experience true boundaries the first time trying, and when the question of Pasubau boundaries is fairfu investigated it will be found they were fairly shown so far as the survey went. As to "private surveyors' mentioned by your correspondent, I believe Mr. Wiltse, one of the parties mentioned, was a government surveyor at the time, and if I know how infinitely, he is the last man to have anything to do with bribery, or John S. Low either. Let us hear no more about bribery; try something more plauascertained at about the extent of Pannau, and count he but purchase it, 'twould shield his property. He was then quite willing to pay the purchase money before the survey or receipt of deed, simply securing the burgain by bill of sale. Neither did he feel himself bound to tell Morrison the extent of his land,

MR. EDITOR-DEAR SIR :- As one of those who supply cattle for the Honolulu Market, I have watched the various meat markets for the past few years, and although we graziers do not obtain so much for our fat stock as formerly, the consumers pay almost as much as ever. Five years ago the grazier obtained further use in concealing that Albert W Hicks, who from five to six cents per pound for his beef, now from two and a half to four cents, an average reduction of forty per cent. Blood, we are told, on the highest authority, is the "Life," or at least the medium of Life to the Body; and it is, we know, the great feeder of every part of the frame.
